

Has there ever been a case of a gold medallist in the Olympic games having more legs than average, but fewer arms than average?

