

Make up a three-digit number by selecting, in any order, three digits from the grid so that no two of the chosen numbers come from the same row or column.

Now test to see if that number is divisible by 3. What is the probability that your number is not divisible by 3?

