

Evaluating Science in the Media

This article is the final one in the series on processed meat. Please read the highlighted sections (you are welcome to read the whole thing of course). No summary is necessary. Please comment on the arguments made in the article, and how this article affects your view of the previous news articles/press release/report that you read on this topic.