

The final projects are due on Thursday, December 18—please put a copy in my mailbox before the Mathematics Office closes (4:30). If you are submitting your project electronically, please do it by December 17, to give me a chance to see if the file opens.

Thank you for your participation in this course. I hope you have fun working on the project and I wish you a nice break and a great next semester.